[Fixtact from the minutes of the formal of the fire many made of finer material than the paymaster of the navy, that the for. [Fixtact from the minutes of the Government of the Government of the United States, to dethe paymaster of the navy, that the former should have the rank and pay of brigadier general, while the latter must not aspire to a higher position than lieutensus commander, two grades below a captain? Does West Point so refine our coarse human clay that its diploma even chtitles quartermasters and paymasters to high rank? Have we a cility among us, indeed, and is the Chronicle its organ?

We prefer to stand by the people, by the working men of both army and navy, and to oppose unjust discriminations. We must denounce the spirit of caste, whother it manifest itself in the navy or elsewhere. Difference of official station there must be for discipline, but they involve no prominent social dis-tinctions; and there is no denying the fact that a great deal of the antagonism of the line of the navy towards the staff has grown out of Jealousy of the intelli-gent corps of engineers, whose import-ance has developed with the growth of a steam navy. These gentlemen are me-chanics, who have educated themselves and not put the Government to the expense of educating them, and they are as highly educated as any class of naval officials, for the progress of their art re-quires constant study on their part to keep up with it. The wonders of steam engineering will never cease, and the corps of American mechanics who have fair recognition of their services. They are as important to the navy as steam is important to it, and their very modest desire to be allowed to reach the grade of captain after so many years of ervice ought to be respected.

During the rebellion, the line, by persistent effort and availing itself of the patriotic impulses of Congress, had four new grades added to its rank by three of them higher than the navy had ever known. The Secretary of the Navy, by an order issued in the same spirit, added two grades to staff rank, hitherto very insignificant, and then only ranking as high as captain. Admiral Porter, immediately on the incoming of the present Administration, had this order revoked, though he did not offer to abandon the additional rank acquired by the line. The staff saked Congress to protect them against the unjust dis criminations to which they are subjected on ship-board, by giving them positive rank. This the Stevens bill in the use proposes to do, and it is understood that this bill will be reported by a on Friday last Admiral Porter was before the committee testifying with reference to the executive officers. A by line officers that staff officers wish to command ships and exercise other powers of line officers, and that they object to obey come ands delivered through executive officers. This is a minimise ment throughout, and has not a shadow of foundation in fact. Command is not the necessary accompaniment of rank, and the surgeon captain of a ship's heapild, or the engineer captain of a ship's heapild, or the engineer captain of a ship's line of probable that Mr. Bowen told the according to the commendation of the party as well as be. Rattering character."

We copy the above from the Washington correspondence of the Cinclunati Gazette of fiaturday. With an efficuety rarely equalled Mr. Sayles J. Bowen, notwithstanding the abandoned their private workshops to devote themselves to Government ser-vice, have a right to expect at least a first the exponent of all the Republicanism of the Pharict of Columbia. It appears from the above and from other good author-ity that on Thursday last he, with chara-teristic impudence, called upon the Presi-dent to request that the clerks in the several dent to request that the clarks in the several bureaus should either support blus, or, failing to obtain that, that they should maintain a discreet allence or be removed.

No matter how long and faithfully these clarks have served the country, no matter for the scars and wounds received in her defence, no matter for the missing limbs, if they fail to see the greatness, the purity, the virine, the pseudar similability and gentlemantly efficial deportment of Ills Screan Highness, Sayles J. Bowen, their treason is obvious, and they must be removed. What though such a course would reduce the though such a course would reduce the clarical force of the Government to a mere corporal's guard? There are others, true Bosem mes, ready to take their places and

"bend the knee to Baal."

But the President could not see it in the light. It was too soon after the adoption of the different amendment giving to all men the free use of the ballot, to attempt to dicthe free use of the ballot, in attempt to de-tate to any class how shey should vote, or what particular tadividual they should sup-port, especially in the affairs of a corpora-tion where no political rights are in ques-tion, and even where no political rights are grantest, and Mr. Bowen not with a flat though corrections reflect.

though couricous refusal.

In this, as in swrything else he does, Mr.
Bowen chose to go to work in an indirect,
roundabout way, dealing in general torms,
to accumplish a particular object, lestead of President that he had axhamsted every measure of intimidation and threatie-to force these colored men to his support before coming to him to make this request.

It is too much to hope that this refusal of the President will have any more effect in the freshiest will have any more effect is reducing the concelt, the arrogance, or the impudent assumptions of Mr. Bowen than did the severe reprimated he received from the Schale committee a short time since, and we shall no doubt hear of the outeroppings of his malevolent splean for two mouths muse.

ATTORNEY COOK TO READ.

On March 14 Aldorman Connolly introduced the fullowing resolution, calling upon the corporation attorney for certain information, of vital importance to the tax-payers and owners of real estate in this city. Two weeks have passed, and the especiation attorney, for reasons best known to himself, has not thought it proper or expedient to respond to the manimous request of the Board. It is hoped that he will do so to be information we could get and led by the firstly to be in the premises as American Journalists. Though we had no personal acquaintance with Captain Perkins, yet from the best information we could get and led by the firstly corressed and other revesued opinion of the formation we could get and led by the firmity expressed and often repeated opinion of the American Government, we fully believed that justice is on the side of Farkins, and we ventured to say so. The attack made upon Ferkins by Mr. Catacasay, in this letter to Mr. Clay, we thought was unjust in prin-ciple to both the public and private parties involved, and wholly fains in resolute of facts.

the Government of the United States, to dethe Government of the United States, to de-mand and require the fallest justice to be done, we did not expect to be called upon to present such a soul-stirring vindication of the damariner as is offered on the part of his daughter, yet less than twenty years of age, which card we herewith present to our readers as a production which does cradit to our American female character, and exhibi-

BLANCES A. PERKINS.

No comments of ours can add anything to the force of the above lotter. There is something simply grand in such an effort on the part of an orphan girl, who, having no brother, and white laboring to aid in the support of her mother, can produce such a letter in vindication of the bour and memory of her dead father. Nothing but the desprof her dead father. Nothing but the desp of nor cond rather. Accounty was the unique of the confidence in the justice of God and that truth and right was on the side of her father, could eat forth the above communication from the daughter of Captain Perkins. The sentiments uttered in this letter would do could be a common to the country of the c rodit to any one who over directed or served often produce such rirls as the daughter of often produce such girs as in danguer of Captain Ferkins has by this letter shown her-self to be. It is from such women as this we are favored with our soldiers and states men, who know how to defend and adminis-ter the rights of our people and our Great Republic.

From information we have received we apprehend Mr. Catacaxy and his affidavit makers will have a pretty severe time of it before they get rid of the attack made spon the character of Capt. Perkins.

Canterow, of New York, will publish next week "Helen Gardner," a new volume by Marion Harland; and "The Story of a Honeymoon," a reprint of a new comic English storel. The Hindoo origin of Hebrow and Christian Revelation, which Louis Jaccollint, the famous French sevent, has se enriously attempted to prove in his new work entitled "The Bible in India," will also be entitled." The Bible in India," will also be publisher, next week by the same publisher. John Esten Cooke's new book, "Hammer and Rapler," has passed late a fifth edition already, and Brick Pomeroy's "Saturday Nighte" into a fourth edition. Carteton publishes both books.
